

We Prepare for the Seventeenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

On the day that I called for help; you answered me. Psalm 13

Principal's Newsletter This Weeks' News July 19, 2010

Already half way through July, there are only 7 short weeks until the Opening Family Event on Thursday, September 2! The heat wave continues as do the ongoing efforts at the school to prepare everything for Fall 2010!

- Enrollment continues to increase as new families inquire and register.
- Class lists are being compiled and finalized.
- The calendar for the new academic year is set (Please see note below).
- Floors will soon be waxed clean and shiny. (Classrooms are already finished).
- Classrooms and offices are being cleaned and re-organized.
- New texts and workbooks and supplies are ordered.
- New lunch menus and ordering services are being set-up.
- The benevolent folks at the Catholic Schools Foundation are funding several projects to help the school remain viable and strong in the coming years.

This week we, welcome two more camps, Cooking and Art Creations! Thankfully, both classes are taking place in the below grade locations, providing children and teachers with cool environments in which to work. Good luck and enjoy!

Congratulations to Jack Carter, St Pius V Class of '06 who is named the first recipient of the Agganis Scholarship in honor of the late Patrick McManus, St. Pius V Class of ... Jack finished at Lynn English High School in June and will attend Holy Cross next September. Good luck Jack!

Grateful for summertime, we offer praise and thanksgiving to God daily and especially at weekend liturgy!
